WHAT HIS FAMILY MEANT BY "MARRYING BE NEATH HIS FAMILY MEANT BY MARKITAN NEATH HIM"—HIS BRIEF COLLEGE DAYS.

William C. Phinelander continued yesterday his testimony in the examination as to his sanity before Commissioners Patterson, Detmold and Nolan. He was subjected for nearly three hours to a close examination by Assistant District-Attorney Adams, but answered all the questions without apparent difficulty. He was sometimes nervous in his motions, and frequently asked for greater precision in the questions of the counsel. Mrs. Rhine-lander, dressed in a cream-colored costume, with bits of red at the throat and wrists, watched the proceedings attentively. A few other women were present. The space outside of the bar was filled with spectators, while several physicians were scated near the witness.

Rhinelander, in answer to Mr. Adams's questions, said that he had been prepared for college by a private tutor, and entered Columbia in the class of 1876. He continued there for two years, leaving in May, 1874. He said that he had only a few friends, as he did not join any of the secret societies and had little money to spend. He was given a regular allowance of $500 about the time he left college. He was asked why he left college after two years' time. He said:

Partly because the r-gular mathematical course was finished, and, while I did not consider myself deficient in NEATH RIM"-HIS BRIEF COLLEGE DAYS.

two years' time. He said:

Parity because the regular mathematical course was finished, and, while I did not consider myself deficient in other studies. I did not consider a college education practically necessary, however it might be theoretically, and because I had a desire to travel.

Mr. Adams - Did you not have a difficulty with one of Your classmates named Seligman?

Witness—That was a college prank. There were three Seligmans in the class. One of them handed me a note in the class-room, on which was writen that I had been called by an opprobrious name. He refused to tel who had made the remark, and, I believe, added some insulting remark of his own. It was arranged, I suppose in order the boys should have roome into, that we should fight a duel in Barlem. They thought they would turn the joke on me, but just before we were to got a Harlem, I said, "If the man don't fight he will get shot in the back." The after was drapped, and an apology was tendered to me.

Applause broke out as the witness was describing his conduct, and Commissioner Patterson said sternly: "If the applause is repeated it will be necessary to clear the room." The witness continuing said that he returned from Europe on the last day of May, 1875. He recollected the date especially, because it was then that heirst met his future wife, who was at his father's house. She remained there, employed by the Rhinelander family, until October, when she went to her sister's home. Rhmelander said that he proposed marriage on November 1. He did not tell his family as they had said that no one but a fool wend marry beneath him.

Mr. Adams—What d.d. you understand by "beneath you"!

Witness—They meant any one out-ide of their own charmes circle. I knew well chauch what that was.

Mr. Adams—What did they speak as if such a timp were possible in your case!

Witness—I had, I ways expressed a much lower opinion than they of many of their sequantances. I had even said that I did not see how any man count be inopy with a wife from such a circle. They had another reason to suspect me. I had seen in toe habit of being about town till be hours, but that fall my nother said. I must be confring some yourg lady because I came home at such seasonable hours, returning usually some a ter I o'clock. I book good care after that to come home always at untersonable hours.

Rhinelander said, that he met, his wife at least.

Rhinelander said that he met his wife at least once a day until they were married. While she was living with her sister the meetings were usually on the street. They would walk in opposite directions in Forty-seventh-st, until they met. When he wished to be married he pretended that he was going to Canada and eluded his father's vigilance by jumping off the train at Forty-seventh-st, after his father had seen him start off.

st., after his father had seen him start off.

Mr. Adams—How did you break the news of the mar riage to your family 4
Witness—I told my grandmother first and then went to my grandmother's apartments in the Stevens apartment house and told my nother. My grandmother, who takes things coolly as far as werds go, simply said, "What whi your mother say to this!" When I called on my mother I knew by her face that they had told her a part of the story. See asked: "Whom have you matried!" I said: "This seems a very solean matter to you. Now to make it a little mache, suppose that you chees." She guessed twice. The first time she guessed wrong, but the secand time she guessed right. Then she said: "Moy God in His merry take the woman!" Further on she said: "I have known a parent in suca a case to make this with. May you have a child not may that child grow up to break your heart. I do not make that wish, but I will wish that you may hever have a child."

hicas-I suppose, that my wife should die.

I will go the other."

The witness in answer to the questions put to hi it told of the amount of his allowance, which was at first $500, at times nothing, and recently $2,500 and $3,000 a year. A great deal of questioning was necessary to draw out the reason of the recent separation between timself and his wife. He said that he wished to board in the country with his present landlady, but that his wife was not willing to agree to the proposition. He gave his reasons for objecting to the visits of one of the physicians because he thought him prejudiced. He said that Dr. Fitch had said: "I think you shot Mr. Drake for an insane reason," and made other remarks that the witness did not like. The story of the shorting was re-told, and the examination was adjourned to to-day.

THE DOCK BOARD NOT TO BE BLUFFED. AFTER DELINQUENTS WITH SHARP STICKS-WHAT MR, STARR WILL DO WHEN HE COMES BACK.

MR, STARR WILL DO WHEN HE COMES BACK.

Commissioner Lainabeer, by the unanimous vote of Mr. Voorhis acted as chairman of the Dock Board, yesterday morning in the absence of President Stark. He called attention to the fact that a month ago the Department served notice of removal on Jacob Weiler, C. H. Griffith & Co., William Murnay, and Jacob Koberts, wholesale fruit dealers occupying stands at the foot of Baring sign. They were required to move before August 19, in a penalty of $50 each day after that time, but the sheds were still occupied, the dealers were doing a lively business, and were credited with laughing at the ejectment notice as a "bluff of the Dock Commission's," Mr. Voorhis explanned that President Stark ejectment notice as a "btoff of the Bock Commission's." Mr. Voorhis explained that President Stark and himself had been wanted on by a delegation of the occupants, who requested that their time might be extended two days, and their request was granted. "But you see they give us the grand laugh, observed Mr. Laimbeer.

"I see they do," returned Mr. Voorhis, "but he laughs best who laughs hist. When Mr. Stark comes back he will "go for them.

"I don't believe it," returned Mr. Laimbeer, stirring a glass of lemonade with his lead pencil.

"It will do it in the near future," Mr. Voorhis said.

Laimbeer, "they will set him down on a feather eachion."

"Here is another matter!" exclaimed Mr. Voorhis indignantly, "The Troy Line Steambeat Company is continually behind in paying its rentals. We are more lenient with it than any landlord would be. It is an outrage. By holding over the funds several days some one may get the advantage of two or three hondred dollars interest. I don't beheve in permitting such speculations."

The matter was referred to the Corporation Combeton the suggestion of Mr. Lambeer.

During the present month $74.700.55 has been paid to the treasurer for rent of piers, wharfage, etc. The Old Deminion Line has made application to purchase builchead property at the foot of Beach-st., North River, Notice was given the Board by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company that they are prepared to renew their loase of Pier No. 34 North River, at $45.500 per year.

TO COMPROMISE WITH THE MARINE BANK. A PROPOSED SETTLEMENT RATIFIED BY THE CLEAR-

At a meeting of the Clearing House Association yesterday the plan of settlement of the claims of the First National Bank and the receiver of the Marine National Bank, growing out of the Ward-Fish collapse, was approved with only the dissenting voice of the Chemical and Nassau banks. The First National has urged the associated banks to bear the loss that fell upon it by its payment of the check of $215.000 drawn by Ferdinand Ward in favor of the Marine Bank the night before Grant & Ward suspended. Receiver Johnston asserted that the $405.063 paid to the creditor banks in the Clearing House, on May 6, was taken from the Marine Bank after it had closed its doors. The settlement now proposed is as follows:

Settlement now proposed is as follows:

The receiver of the Marine National Bank to allow the claim of the First National Bank for $215,000. As the receiver expects to pay dividends amounting in all to 65 per cent quossibly more, the First National Bank to receive such dividends when paid from time to time, and the associated banks, prorata, taking capital and surplus, to pay to the First National Bank on the acceptance and ratification of the plan of settlement 35 per cent of the call in cash, and to guarantee to pay in addition any deficiency in the 65 per cent expected to be received from the receiver of the Marine National Bank from dividends. In case the cividends from the Marine National Bank shall exceed 65 per cent the associate banks to receive the excess. The First National Bank will herefore receive in dividends $139,750, and in cash from associated banks $75,250, making a total of $215,000.

This settlement is acceptable to the First National Bank, and it is believed that Receiver Johnston will accept it. The compromise is to be approved by the Controller of the Currency and the United States District Court.

A CURIOUS OCEAN PHENOMENON.

A CURIOUS OCEAN PHENOMENON.

The crew of one of the New-York pilot-boats report having observed a remarkable phenomenon at sea, off Sandy Hook, on Saturday night, the circumstances of which are to be investigated by Lieutenants Wells L. Field and John N. Sherman, of the United States Navy, in charge of the Hydrographic Burcau at the Maritime Exchange. It is said that, for a considerable distance all around the vessel, the sea was red, and upon investigation it was found to be caused by myriads of worms, two inches in length and a quarter of an inch in diamter. Similar instances have been observed in the ocean before, but they are of infrequent occurrence. A case was reported to the Navy Department in 1867, the facts of which are briefly as follows: The United States steamer Iroquois had been ordered to the Asiatic Squadron. One night in September, when the vessel was under sail in the Straits of Malacca, the sea as smooth as glass, and the vessel making barely steerage way, the officer of the deck observed that the water was milky white. Commander Earl English, now Commodore and Chief of the Bureau of Navigation and Detail, was in command, and the remarkable sight induced the offleer of the deck to call the captain from his sleep. When he came on deck he realized that the condition of the sea was caused by animalculæ, an instance of which he had witnessed in about the same locality several years before when he was a midshipman. He immediately had every offleer and man called on deck to witness the strange scene, and they looked over the rail for two hours until after the vessel passed through it.

Another instance of the kind was observed by Lieutenant Sherman, in the summer of 1882, on the coast of Pern, between Payta and Chimbote. The sea then was perfectly red, and upon investigation it was found to be caused by animalculæ.

CONGRATULATING AN ASSIGNEE.

The bankrupt sale of Halsted, Haines & Co.'s entire stock, valued at over $500,000, was continued yesterday at their stores, Nos. 376 and 378 Broadway. There were 1,907 lots of lineas and white goods, laes and embroideries sold, and the prices obtained were generally equal to those of the first day. On Tuesday the sales amounted to $112,225, and if during the other five days of the sale as much is obtained there will be nothing lost on the stock. The buyers were numerous and from various parts of the country, but they generally represented small houses. The goods have been divided into small lots, so that small buyers are encouraged to come in, and in this way the aggregate of the prices realized is larger than large lots would bring. CONGRATULATING AN ASSIGNEE.

"It pays to fail when such prices are obtained," should one man during the sale,
"If we don't get better prices," responded Lewis May, the assignee, "the assignee will full."

Mr. May has been complimented on all sides on the rapidity with which he has done his work. When he banded in his achedules, on the nineteenth day after the failure, Judge Van Hoesen and to hon:
"Lawyers and assignees are in the habit of asking more time in such cases. I congratulate you upon your work," Mr. May said yesterday, to a Tain-UNE reporter: "the preferred creditors will get their money, amounting to $417,000, very soon—as seen as the court gives the order to pay after this sale is completed next Tuesday. The rest of the creditors will get about 30 cents on the dollar. On Thursday we shall sell the hosiery, and on Friday sheets, flanness and woollens. On Saturday there will be no sale. On Monday the domestics will be sold and on Tuesday the fancy goods and notions. The partners will come out without a cent in the world. I am employing two of them as clerks now."

The prices obtained for Hamburg edgings, yesterday, ranged from 1½ cents to $1 and averaged 70 cents on the dollar. The laces brought about 60 per cent of their cost, at pieces of from ½ to 12 cents. Among the buyers were Ehrich Brothers, S. S. Stanfield and William Dickson of this city; J. B. White & Co., of Angusta, Ga; Cohen Bros., of Kichmend Va; Konn, Fuelgott & Benedict, of Charleston, S. C., and Jacksonville Fla.; and M. Kohn & Co., of Wichita, Kan.

NOT DESIROUS OF EVADING THE LAW.

The Commissioners of Emigration yesterday received a letter from Collector Robertson inclosing one from R. J. Cortis, manager of the White Star steamship line, in regard to seventy immigrants who left the White Star steamship Adriatic last Friday before they had been inspected. Mr. Cortis said that he did not know that it had been decided to respect immigrants on the steamers instead of at Cartle Garden as heretofore; that it was the intention to transfer the passengers to Castle Garden while the vessel was in the stream, but as Commissioner Stephenson said that he would not inspect them there the vessel was put alongside the pier, where, after the cabin passengers were discharged, the vessel was put at the disposal of Mr. Stephenson. Mr. Cortis added that the officers of the line have no power to detain passengers on board after the voyage is completed, and that to do so would make the vessel liable for damages; further, that there is no disposition on the part of the company to evade the inspection law, and if the passengers who scanged are liable to become public charges they will be returned by the company without expected the Emigration Beard. MR. BALDWIN'S NEWPORT PROPERTY.

The Central Trust Company had not received any infermation about the advertised sale of the Newport property of Christopher C. Baldwin, lately president of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company, yesterday, Mr. Baldwin is in Europe. Hefere sailing he placed the property in the hands of the Trust Company in trust to secure his indorsement of notes given by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company, with instructions that any surplus should be paid over to the railroad company. It is supposed that the sale has been advertised on the authority of the cashier of the Mount Morris Bank. to whom Mr. Baldwin conveyed his equity in the property after the other claims had been discharged. The estate is believed to be worth about $75,000, although it was vained at a much higher figure by the owner. An offer of $60,000 was made for it yesterday. It is not considered probable that the Mount Morris Bank will receive anything after the prior claims shall have been discharged.

The storm of wind and rain which swept over the lower part of the city about 7 p. n. on Tucaday was remarkable principally on account of its limits. For fully half an hour the rain came down in torrents and drove pedeatrians to shelter in dearways and elsewhere. The wind blew with tremendous force, tearing signs and blinds from their fastenings, and doors facing the west had to be braced. For sons going to the appear and of the city were surprised to find above Seventieth at, that the parements were dry, and the stars and new moon shining brightly. Upon inquiry it was learned that not a drop of rain fell in the upper part of the city.

A COUNCIL OF PHYSICIANS OVER A COW.

There is not that full accord between the Milk Raiser's Association of Kings County and the Brooklyn Board of Health that conduces to the enforcement of the measures for preventing the spread of pleuro-pieumonia. Occasionally Dr. McLean orders a cow or two belonging to some member of the association into quarantine, on suspicion of being tainted with the disease. At once the best veterinary surgeons in the neighborhood of the owner are employed to investigate the case and if necessary testify in court.

A Mrs. Gans, who has a stable on Court-st., has several times had her cows seized, and has fought every case before Commissioner Raymond. To day at 11 a. m. a post mortein examination will be held at the slaughter house, No. 272 Hudson-ave., on a red and white cow belonging to Mrs. Gans, at which all the veterinary surgeons are requested to be present. Dr. McLean insists that the cow has, or had, pleuro-pneumonia, and the owner denies it. Commissioner Raymond and Dr. McLean will appear for the Health Board and the milk raisers will be represented by Dr. L. V. Plageman, Dr. Findley, Dr. Earl and Dr. Robertson. An interesting discussion may be expected.

Jacob Krey, age thirty, was one of the immigrant passengers who arrived here yesterday on the steamship Bohemia from Hamburg, and on the same vessel was Katharina Seutge, whose affections had been won by Jacob before they landed. Jacob had promised not only to protect Katharina from being imposed upon by others in this country, but he also promised not to desert her. However, after they landed, there was some doubt as to whether Jacob intended to keep his word and take Katharina with him to Shenandoah, Penn, Mrs. Esslinger, the matron at Castle Garden, told them that they would have to be married before they could depart. Before another hour had passed Pastor Ebert had pronounced them one, and at 5 o'clock the happy couple started for their new home.

DISCUSSING THE FINNY TRIBES. THE STATE FISH COMMISSION AT WORK-MR.

The STATE FISH COMMISSION AT WORK—MR.

BLACKFORD FACETIOUS.

The New-York State Fishery Commission held a meeting at 11 a. m. yesterday at the office of R. B. Roosevelt, No. 17 Nassau-st. Commissioner R. B. Roosevelt, F. G. Blackford and Richard U. Sherman were present. The last Legislature appropriated $5,000 for establishing a fish latchery in the Adirondacks. Mr. Sherman was instructed to pick out a suitable location. The Superintendent of the Cold Spring Thatchery on Long Island reported the number of fish planted in New-York waters since December last as white fish, 1,000,000; salmon, 450,000; land locked salmon, 12,000; brook trout, 20,000; European trout, 40,000; rainbow trout, 30,000 and shad 77,000, making a total of 1,629,000. Mr. Blackford reported that the large decrease in oysters, in the beds near New-York city was not due to unatural causes, but to the large increase in the demand for the bivalve throughout the country. Professor Rice had begun a week ago hatching oysters at the Cold Spring hatchery and already many young oysters had been hatched. Oystermen generally predicted that the effort to hatch oysters artificially would not be successful but the United States Fish Commission had accomplished it and there was no reason why others could not do as well. He also said that cod fish were being artificially hatched contrary to general prediction.

James Annin, jr., informed the Commission that BLACKFORD FACETIOUS.

The $15.000 appropriated by the State for the Fish Commission was distributed as follows: State Hatchery at Caledonia, $10.500; at Cold Spring, $3,500; and for shad hatching in the Hudson River $1.000. is the intention of the commission to see that the laws against keeping fish and game, out of season particularly in the large refrigerators in New-York city are strictly enforced.

THE NEW BARGE OFFICE OPENED.

THE NEW BARGE OFFICE OPENED.

HOW THE SYSTEM WORKED—ONLY ONE STEAMSHIP TEST= II.

The new Harge Office at the Battery was formally opened yesterday for the purpose for which it was built—the landing and inspection of cabin passengers laggage. The first vessel to use the new system was the steamship St. Laurent, of the French Transatlantic Compay from Havre. The conditions were in every way most favorable, the day being pleasant, the water of the bay smooth, and the number of passengers comparatively small, there being only ninety-five in all. Had it been a day when there was a high wind or a hard rate, and with three or four large transatlantic smooth, and the number of passengers in all. Had it been a day when there was a high wind or a hard rain, and with three or four large transathatic steamships arriving at once, the test of its practical additive would have been compute.

The St. Laurent arrived at Quarantine about 9 a.m., and the transfer of passengers and baggage took about two hours. After being landed at the Barge Office the passengers were detained two hours more until their baggage had been inspected by the customs officers. There was more or less complaining on the part of the passengers on account of the delays, but 11 is believed that after a few days the work will be done more expeditionally. The enstoms officers assert that after the passengers become accustomed to the new system they will be better satisfied with the inspection of their baggage in the Barge Office than upon the piers, where the discharging of cargo and the passing and repassing of heavy tracks is not only annoying, but is dangerous to life and limb as well.

The Barge Office is a large and imposing granite structure, which cost the Government $330,000. It was begun in August, 1879, and was completed in January, 1883. The main building is 108 feet long and 50 feet deep, and contains wasting-rooms for passengers and offices for the Deputy Surveyor, boarding officers, and contains suspectors. Fleamex, which is built mostly of corrugated from and to be used for the inspection of baggage, is 172 feet on the cast and south sides, 110 feet or the west side, and 108 feet on the north. The floor has an area of 20,000 square feet, and a galleyy runs around the sides of the building for the accommodation of the passengers.

THE CASE OF MRS. WILLE.

The case of Mrs. Henricita Willie, who, it has been alleged, is illegally restrained in an insane asyling at Flushing, L. L., will come up before Justice Bartlett, in Supreme Court, to-day. Attorney Leonard is of opinion that the charge of insatity cannot be sustained and that her detention was caused by the desire of some of her relatives to come into possession of her money. Charles T. Harbeck, a relative of Mrs. Wille, stated to a Thinden reporter yesterday that Mrs. Wiles property, both real and personal, at the present time, does not exceed $30,000, and that her meome is not more than $1,500 at best. A. S. Brown, attorney for the definite, said that he was sure that the case will be dismissed. The relatives of Mrs. Wile maintain that they have been actuated by motives of family pride and a desire to avoid scandal in having Mrs.

NEWS FROM THE SUBURBS.

BLOWS AND OATHS ON A TRAIN.

As the way train which left Long Island City at 4:30 p. m. on Tuesday was starting from Jamnica, a min who had been drinking went into the unit car. Agent Bennett ordered him out of the car, and the man turned on him with an eath, saying: "Thelear the train out," and then grabbed Bennett by the threat and tried to force him out of the doer. An assistant mult agent saved Bennett from failing off the platform, and helped Bennett to push his assailant into the smoking car. Mr. Prince, of South Oyster Hay, went to the assistance of the mail agents, and dealt the stranger a blow in the face, felling him to the floor, and then quietly resumed his seat, and the agents returned to their work. The intoxleated man soon revived and, knowing that he would be arrested at Pearsail's, jumped from the train. Mr. Emmett, of Last Bockaway, who had witnessed Mr. Prince's attack on the man, said to him: "You blank old scoundret, you ought to be ashaned to strike a dranken man in that manner." What the blank have you got to say about it," replied Prince, at the same time making an effort to strike Emmett, who struck Mr. Prince on the nose, drawing the blood and blacking both oyes. A free light was avoided by the conductor.

THE SMITH FAMILY IN CONVENTION.

The Smith family beld its annual meeting at Peapack, N. J., yesterday and, for the space of another year will continue to exhibit those modest, self-denying traits which are characteristic of all the Smiths. The family is somewhat large as may be readily verified by reterence to the directory of this or any other city and it takes a pardonable pride in its numbers and achievements, which it annually voices at the place settled in 1743 by the old Hollander, John Smith, who built his log cabin in the beautiful little valley in the northern part of Somerset Connty. Peter Z. Smith, one of his direct descendants, still owns a part of the old farm, and the grove upon it was filled with innumerable Smiths and descendants of Smiths. A cornet band played stirring music the chief number of which was "The Smiths March" and the Rev. George W. Scarlett, of Peapack, delivered an historical address at 2 p. m. Something similar to a Methodist experience meeting was also held and as the afternoon waned the Smiths and semi-Smiths melted away, leaving the ancient grove to the spirit of old John Smith. BEATING AND ROBBING A PREACHER.

Charles Carpenter, colored, a local preacher of Lattingtown, in Oyster Bay, L. L. white on his way home from a friend's house about 9 p. m. Tuesday, near Week's Station, was brutally assaulted by two white men. He was struck on the back of the head with a club, the second blow felling bina to the ground, after which the ruffians beat him until he was insensible and then rified his pockets of $20, after which they beat him over the head to make sure that they had killed him. The preacher lay in the road for an hour, when he was discovered and taken to the village, where medical attendance was procured. He said that his assailants were George Hall and Thomas Jackson, two of the worst characters in that part of Long Island. It was learned that they boarded the milk train for Long Island City, and officers are searching for them. Mr. Carpent, and officers BEATING AND ROBBING A PREACHER.

PYÆMIA

Is a foul corruption in the blood that rots out all the machinery of life. Nothing will erudicate it from the system and pre-vent its transmission to offspring but will eradicate it from the system and prevent its transmission to offspring but AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. This preparation is also the only one that will cleans the blood of Mercurial poison and the taint of Contagious Diseases, Impovershed blood is productive of ANÆMIA,

A wretched condition indicated by Pallid Skin, Placeid Muscles, Battered Nerves, and Melancholy, its first symptoms are Weakness, Languor, Leas of Nerve Force, and Mental Dejection. Its course, unchecked, leads nevitably to insanity or death. Women frequently suffer from it. The only medicine that, while purifying the blood, enriches it with new vitality, and invigorates the whole system, is

THE TRIBUNE,

Is the most virulent form of blood-poisoning. Less speedily fatal, but not less certainly so, is the viriation of the blood of which the first symptoms are Pimples, Sties, Boils, and Cutoneous Eruptions. When the taint of Serofula gives warning of its presence by such indeations, no time should be lost in using Ayen's Sansararitta, the only perfect and reliable medicine for the purification of the blood.
